2. WHAT KIND OF COOKIES THE SITE USES

The Site uses various types of cookies for different purposes:

2.1 TECHNICAL COOKIES

Technical cookies are cookies enabling users to browse on the Site or to enjoy its basic features. These cookies are processed automatically on the user device by the Site as a result of the user's access to the Site and do not require any specific consent by the user.

Indeed, consent is not required by the law if and when a cookie is:
- Used for the sole purpose of carrying out the transmission of a communication; and
- Strictly necessary in order for the provider of a digital service explicitly required by the user to provide that service (ex: http server access log).

Technical cookies used by the Site include:

The Site also collects the IP address or any other identifying information on the user device that is necessary in order to manage the Site, diagnose server problems and meet other lawful purposes.

Disabling technical cookies may limit the ability of users to browse the Site and to enjoy its features or the services offered.

Opt-in may be expressed in a general way, for instance by clicking the OK button, or by scrolling the page or clicking on any of the Site elements.

Cookies are stored in order to make the user's next visits to the Site more effective. However, users can always revoke all consents previously given by clearing their browser cache and cookies.
